

The Effect of Living in a Dysfunctional
Modern
Family and the Beneficial Effects of Pun
Therapy According to the Moore's
Lifetime Example

Lisa Simpson, B.S. (summa cum laude)

An Abstract Presented to the Faculty of the Graduate School of Saint Louis University in Partial Fulfillment of the Requirements for the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy

2004

Abstract

This must summarize your research in a simple enough language that it is meaningful to the general reader and also technical enough that another researcher will want to read it. This text will appear in the microfilm search. So be sure to use good keywords that will lead people to your work. Look at AGU or AMS categories to get a few topical words here. This may not be more than 300 words since it must fit on one page.

This must summarize your research in a simple enough language that it is meaningful to the general reader and also technical enough that another researcher will want to read it. This text will appear in the microfilm search. So be sure to use good keywords that will lead people to your work. Look at AGU or AMS categories to get a few topical words here. This may not be more than 300 words since it must fit on one page.

This must summarize your research in a simple enough language that it is meaningful to the general reader and also technical enough that another researcher will want to read it. This text will appear in the microfilm search. So be sure to use good keywords that will lead people to your work. Look at AGU or AMS categories to get a few topical words here. This may not be more than 300 words since it must fit on one page.

This must summarize your research in a simple enough language that it is meaningful to the general reader and also technical enough that another researcher will want to read it. This text will appear in the microfilm search.

So be sure to use good keywords that will lead people to your work. Look at AGU or AMS categories to get a few topical words here. This may not be more than 300 words since it must fit on one page.